After the presentation of degrees Doctor Wentz addressed the graduating class briefly stating that within a few days their members will have been more widely scattered than most seminary classes — some going along the eastern seaboard, some to the midwest and some to the Pacific coast. He expressed the hope that after this war one or more of the class may go into the Far East "to engage in the great work to be done for Christianity there."

MOTHERS' DAY

Tomorrow is Mothers' Day, a day set aside to pay tribute to all Mothers, those who remain with us and those who have gone before.

In reverence and respect it is second only to Christmas, the birthday of Christ the King, and Easter, the anniversary of His resurrection.

On this, the third wartime Mothers' Day for American Mothers there will not be the customary rejoicing, for many thousands will be without their sons and daughters, because they have gone off to war. They are shouldering arms that all the world may soon again be freed from the bondage of oppression and the threat of a power-crazed band of nations who would conquer free peoples under the iron heel of an oppressor.

Wherever these absent sons and daughters may be, and whatever their assigned tasks, they will pause and pay tribute to their Mothers, the truly Gold Star heroes of the world.

No tribute can be too great for Mothers. All the world owes them a debt of gratitude that can never be fully repaid. Their love and their grief knows no bound. Our admiration and respect should have no limit.

Wear a red flower if your Mother is living . . . a white flower if she has gone to her eternal reward.

POSTHUMOUS MEDAL GIVEN MRS. SPRECHER

Mrs. Pearl Sprecher, Carlisle street, was presented Friday evening with the air medal posthumously awarded her son, Sgt. Wayne G. Sprecher, lost in action in the Pacific theater.

The medal was given Mrs. Sprecher by Lt. Col. Willis F. Daniels, of the Adjutant General's office, Middletown, at an educational meeting held at the court house for men about to be inducted into the armed forces from Adams county.

A color guard of the local American Legion stood at attention flanking the center of the court room as Colonel Daniels presented Mrs. Sprecher with the award and read the citation accompanying it.

Special Citation

The medal was given for meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial flight on March 3, 1943, according to the citation, which added, "A flight of two B-17's participated in a bombing mission against a convoy of enemy warships and cargo vessels. The crews made the bombing runs at an altitude of 7,000 feet through intense anti-aircraft fire from the protecting warships. Despite all this, two direct hits were scored with 1,000-pound bombs from the first plane and almost simultaneously two more hits were scored by the second plane.

The vessel appeared to burst into pieces and sank in five minutes. The B-17's were then attacked by five Zeros which were successfully repulsed by the gunners. The determination and bravery displayed during the attack is in keeping with the finest traditions of the service."

Sergeant Sprecher was an aerial gunner in one of the two B-17's mentioned in the citation, and was apparently killed on one of his next few missions according to word received here by the parents. The citation was signed by Brig. Gen. Robert H. Dunlop, acting, the Adjutant General.

Judge Presides

Sergeant Sprecher entered service July 26, 1941, and was a member of an air combat crew in the southwest Pacific. On April 2, 1943, his parents received word that he was "missing in action."

Now missing for a year, the War Department has listed him as presumed dead.

Ineligibles Settle Tie Voting Mix-Up

J. P. McSherry was the winner Friday afternoon when the Adams county election board drew lots to settle a tie for Democratic committeeman in the first ward in Littlestown, but it was all a formality anyway—McSherry can not serve.

Neither for that matter could the other man in the tie, George Kress, if he had won the drawing. Kress and McSherry both are non-residents of the ward, both living in the second ward of the borough. Just to make the thing unanimous, the county election board also found that Marie Corrae, elected Democratic committeewoman from Littlestown's first ward cannot accept her post. She too is a resident of the second ward of Littlestown.

The committeemen and committeewoman from Littlestown's first ward will now be named by the Democratic county chairman. Incidentally, all of those who cannot serve in the first ward, were elected to similar posts in the second ward of Littlestown, and can serve in those capacities, the election board said.

Gettysburg's water company, the town and battlefield are featured in "H2O," magazine of the Northeastern system of water companies in its April-May issue recently distributed to subscribers in this section.

The front cover of the magazine carries a picture of the Lincoln speech memorial in the National cemetery and a copy of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The first story in the magazine is about Gettysburg, outlining the battlefield and its history and telling of the 1944 Memorial Day exercises to be held here May 30. Pictures of Vernon Corle, manager of the local water company, Lois Klinefelter, cashier, and two pictures of the water company's pumping station are shown. The directors discussed the operating costs of the hospital at some length, the last several quarterly state reports reflecting constantly increasing costs of operation. The need to study possible reclassifications of various positions in the hospital organization and the employment of additional personnel to meet the steadily increasing demands on the service of the hospital were recognized and referred to the officers with authority to act.

Allies Are Punching Forward On 25-Mile Italian Battlefront

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters, Naples, May 13 (AP)—Allied troops deepened their penetrations of German positions at some points and beat off fierce German counter-attacks in other sectors today as a great battle raged along the 25-mile front from Cassino to the Tyrrhenian sea in the second day of the new all-out Italian offensive.

American Fifth Army troops attacking through the upper Garigliano valley captured the town of Ventosa in severe fighting and drove the enemy from his strong points on Damiano hill and Hill 316 to the west and southwest of Castelforte.

The capture of Ventosa disclosed that the Americans had punched ahead at least one and a half miles from the jumping off of the offensive in that area.

Anzio Beachhead Is Quiet

Other American troops advanced one mile and with the support of tanks routed the Nazis from the town of Cercobi, a mile south of Damiana hill.

Approximately 200 German prisoners were taken by the Fifth Army alone in the first 15 hours of the offensive.

The Anzio beachhead and the Adriatic sector remained quiet.

An Army commentator expressed belief that the Allies had achieved considerable surprise in their attack to crush the Gustav line.

Allied bombers and fighters hammered airdromes, roads and communications throughout Italy during the first day of the offensive, flying 2,750 sorties from which 18 planes failed to return, an Allied communique said. Only one enemy plane was sighted but it fled.

C. A. BIXLER

dents. Father Mark E. Stock and Henry M. Scharf were re-elected, treasurer and secretary, respectively.

New Director Named

Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., was elected a member of the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Markley until May, 1945.

The eight directors whose terms expired this month were re-elected for three-year terms. They are: E. P. Miller, H. Harold Miller, the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock and Carl A. Baum, all of Gettysburg; James McS. Alvey, Emmitsburg; Edgar C. McDonnell, Arendtsville; Guy M. Stock, Bendersville, and Millard F. Stoner, Fairfield.

Present incumbents of all the positions in the hospital under supervision of the board were reappointed for another year by unanimous action of the board.

Officers Begin Study

The directors paid tribute to the memory of Dr. Markley by standing in silence at the opening of the meeting. Suitable resolutions were adopted to be entered on the minutes of the hospital and to be conveyed to the deceased president's family.

The directors discussed the operating costs of the hospital at some length, the last several quarterly state reports reflecting constantly increasing costs of operation. ## RAF CONTINUES BOMBING RAIDS FOR 29TH DAY

By W. W. HERCHER

London, May 13 (AP) — The RAF struck Fortress Europe in force last night and fresh waves of bombers streaked across the Doven Strait at daylight today carrying the pre-invasion bombardment into the 29th day.

The German radio warned that "enemy combat formations are approaching Schleswig-Holstein," one of the North Sea avenues to the Berlin area.

Mitchells and Bostons of the British second Tactical Air force attacked railway targets at Tourcoing in northern France this morning under a Spitfire escort, it was announced.

Daylight Formations

As the day progressed stronger formations of bombers were observed passing over the southeast coast. Fourteen of the possibly 750 British bombers dispatched last night toward the continent.

Against Belgian railway centers Louvain and Hasselt, northwest German and occupied France failed to return — about the same loss suffered by forces of similar strength Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The RAF night attack was a quick follow-up to a smash assault by 2,000 American bombers and fighters on five big Nazi synthetic oil plants.

Mine Enemy Waters

Louvain, about 18 miles east of Brussels, was hit heavily by British bombers Thursday night, in the campaign to paralyze German military communications. Hasselt, about 30 miles east of Louvain, was visited yesterday by Thunderbolts and fighter-bombers of the U. S. Ninth air force aiming at railroad bridges.

The British also laid additional mines in enemy territorial waters during the night.

The Paris radio, quoting Brussels reports, said the Louvain Cathedral was almost completely destroyed in yesterday's attack and other severe damage was caused in the city.

Plan Mothers' Day At Foursquare Church

A special Mother's Day program will be held at the Foursquare Gospel church Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Harvey Trostle. Exercises will be presented by the Adult Sunday school and children's classes.

Bouquets of flowers will be presented to the oldest mother present, youngest mother and mother with the largest family. Awards will be given to those who had perfect attendance records for the year ending in April. The Rev. Mrs. Claude Powers, Illinois, will speak at the morning service and her husband will speak in the evening.

In the lower Garigliano valley near the Tyrrhenian coast Americans slugged their way onto four hills from which the Germans had commanded the lowlands approach route and then crushed two violent enemy counterattacks.

Cross Rapido

South of Cassino Allied troops defied fire yesterday from well-prepared German positions to cross the Rapido river in the Liri valley with assault boats before dawn.

Bridges were quickly placed across despite the swift current.

An official Allied report declared these troops "are forming the first bridgehead in close contact with the foremost defenses of the Gustav line in this sector. The buildup in this initial bridgehead is proceeding against stiff opposition."

The Germans were employing great numbers of tanks, mortars and self-propelled guns in that area.

To the north of the American sector, the Fifth Army's French troops in some of the day's bloodiest, close-quarter combat captured the 2,500-foot crest of Monte Faito and then moved on to the neighboring heights. The summit was a mile and a half ahead of the starting point of the offensive. After taking the mountain the French repulsed a very heavy enemy counter-attack.

Take San Sebastiano

The village of San Sebastiano, a few hundred yards within the German lines, was captured in the early stages of the onslaught against Castelforte and the troops fought on toward that town.

Grim struggles progressed both north and south of the battered ruins of Cassino but the Germans inside the town itself were left unm

The crews made the bombing runs at an altitude of 7,000 feet through intense anti-aircraft fire from the protecting warships. Despite all this, two direct hits were scored with 1,000-pound bombs from the first plane and almost simultaneously two more hits were scored by the second plane. The vessel appeared to burst into pieces and sank in five minutes. The B-17's were then attacked by five Zeros which were successfully repulsed by the gunners. The determination and bravery displayed during the attack is in keeping with the finest traditions of the service."

Sergeant Sprecher was an aerial gunner in one of the two B-17's mentioned in the citation, and was apparently killed on one of his next few missions according to word received here by the parents. The citation was signed by Brig. Gen. Robert H. Dunlop, acting, the Adjutant General.

Judge Presides

Sergeant Sprecher entered service July 26, 1941, and was a member of an air combat crew in the southwest Pacific. On April 2, 1943, his parents received word that he was "missing in action."

Now missing for a year, the War Department has listed him as presumed dead.

Ineligibles Settle
Tie Voting Mix-Up

J. P. McSherry was the winner Friday afternoon when the Adams county election board drew lots to settle a tie for Democratic committeeman in the first ward in Littlestown, but it was all a formality anyway—McSherry can not serve.

Neither for that matter could the other man in the tie, George Kress, if he had won the drawing. Kress and McSherry both are non-residents of the ward, both living in the second ward of the borough. Just to make the thing unanimous, the county election board also found that Marie Crouse, elected Democratic committeewoman from Littlestown's first ward cannot accept her post. She too is a resident of the second ward of Littlestown.

The committeemen and committeewoman from Littlestown's first ward will now be named by the Democratic county chairman. Incidentally, all of those who cannot serve in the first ward, were elected to similar posts in the second ward of Littlestown, and can serve in those capacities, the election board said.

Allies Are Punching
Forward On 25-Mile
Italian Battlefield

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters, Naples, May 13 (AP)—Allied troops deepened their penetrations of German positions at some points and beat off fierce German counter-attacks in other sectors today as a great battle raged along the 25-mile front from Cassino to the Tyrrhenian sea in the second day of the new all-out Italian offensive.

American Fifth Army troops attacking through the upper Garigliano valley captured the town of Ventosa in severe fighting and drove the enemy from his strong points on Damiano hill and Hill 316 to the west and southwest of Castelforte.

The capture of Ventosa disclosed that the Americans had punched ahead at least one and a half miles from the jumping-off of the offensive in that area.

Anzio Beachhead Is Quiet

Other American troops advanced one mile and with the support of tanks routed the Nazis from the town of Cercobi, a mile south of Damiana hill.

Approximately 200 German prisoners were taken by the Fifth Army alone in the first 15 hours of the offensive.

The Anzio beachhead and the Adriatic sector remained quiet.

An Army commentator expressed belief that the Allies had achieved considerable surprise in their attack to crush the Gustav line.

Allied bombers and fighters hammered airdromes, roads and communications throughout Italy during the first day of the offensive, flying 2,750 sorties from which 18 planes failed to return, an Allied communique said. Only one enemy plane was sighted but it fled.

C. A. BIXLER

President of the Hospital Board of Directors, C. A. Bixler, New Oxford, was elected president of the Warner hospital at the annual meeting of the board of directors Friday evening, in the nurses' home. Mr. Bixler, a director of the institution for 20 years, has been vice president for several years. He succeeds the late Dr. E. H. Markley, who served the hospital as president for the last three years.

The board elected John Hauser, president of the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, and Carl A. Baum, of Gettysburg, as vice-presidents.

New Director Named

Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., was elected a member of the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Markley until May, 1945.

The eight directors whose terms expired this month were re-elected for three-year terms. They are: E. P. Miller, H. Harold Miller, the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock and Carl A. Baum, all of Gettysburg; James McS. Alvey, Emmittsburg; Edgar C. McDannell, Arendtsville; Guy M. Stock, Benderville, and Millard F. Stoner, Fairfield.

Present incumbents of all the positions in the hospital under supervision of the board were reappointed for another year by unanimous action of the board.

Officers Begin Study

The directors paid tribute to the memory of Dr. Markley by standing in silence at the opening of the meeting. Suitable resolutions were adopted to be entered on the minutes of the hospital and to be conveyed to the deceased president's family.

The directors discussed the operating costs of the hospital at some length, the last several quarterly state reports reflecting constantly increasing costs of operation. The need to study possible reclassifications of various positions in the hospital organization and the employment of additional personnel to meet the steadily increasing demands on the service of the hospital were recognized and referred to the officers with authority to act.

President Bixler announced a preliminary meeting of the officers will be held next week and that a complete study of all personnel requirements, classifications of positions, and expense and income factors of the hospital will immediately get under way with the objective (Please Turn to Page 5)

RAF CONTINUES
BOMBING RAIDS
FOR 29TH DAY

By W. W. HERCHER

London, May 13 (AP)—The RAF struck Fortress Europe in force last night and fresh waves of bombers streaked across the Dover Strait at daylight today carrying the pre-invasion bombardment into the 29th day.

The German radio warned that "enemy combat formations are approaching Schleswig-Holstein," one of the North Sea avenues to the Berlin area.

Mitchells and Bostons of the British second Tactical Air force attacked railway targets at Tourcoing in northern France this morning under a Spitfire escort, it was announced.

Daylight Formations

As the day progressed stronger formations of bombers were observed passing over the southeast coast. Fourteen of the possibly 750 British bombers dispatched last night toward the continent.

Against Belgian railway centers Louvain and Hasselt, northwest German and occupied France failed to return—about the same loss suffered by forces of similar strength Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The RAF night attack was a quick follow-up to a smash assault by 2,000 American bombers and fighters on five big Nazi synthetic oil plants.

Mine Enemy Waters

Louvain, about 18 miles east of Brussels, was hit heavily by British bombers Thursday night, in the campaign to paralyze German military communications. Hasselt, about 30 miles east of Louvain, was visited yesterday by Thunderbolts and fighter-bombers of the U. S. Ninth air force aiming at railroad bridges.

The British also laid additional mines in enemy territorial waters during the night.

The Paris radio, quoting Brussels reports, said the Louvain Cathedral was almost completely destroyed in yesterday's attack and other severe damage was caused in the city.

Plan Mothers' Day At Foursquare Church

A special Mother's Day program will be held at the Foursquare Gospel church Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Harvey Trostle. Exercises will be presented by the Adult Sunday school and children's classes.

Bouquets of flowers will be presented to the oldest mother present, youngest mother and mother with the largest family. Awards will be given to those who had perfect attendance records for the year ending in April. The Rev. Mrs. Claude Powers, Illinois, will speak at the morning service and her husband will speak in the evening.

In the lower Garigliano valley near the Tyrrhenian coast Americans slugged their way onto four hills from which the Germans had commanded the lowlands approach route and then crushed two violent enemy counterattacks.

Cross Rapido

South of Cassino Allied troops defied fire yesterday from well-prepared German positions to cross the Rapido river in the Liri valley with assault boats before dawn.

Bridges were quickly placed across despite the swift current.

An official Allied report declared these troops "are forming the first bridgehead in close contact with the foremost defenses of the Gustav line in this sector. The buildup in this initial bridgehead is proceeding against stiff opposition."

The Germans were employing great numbers of tanks, mortars and self-propelled guns in that area.

To the north of the American sector, the Fifth Army's French troops in some of the day's bloodiest, close-quarter combat captured the 2,500-foot crest of Monte Faltio and then moved on to the neighboring heights. The summit was a mile and a half ahead of the starting point of the offensive. After taking the mountain the French repulsed a very heavy enemy counter-attack.

Take San Sebastiano

The village of San Sebastiano, a few hundred yards within the German lines, was captured in the early stages of the onslaught against Castelforte and the troops fought on toward that town.

Grim struggles progressed both north and south of the battered ruins of Cassino but the Germans inside the town itself were left unmolested.

The Eighth Army's achievement of gaining a bridgehead over the Rapido was matched by other Eighth Army units north of Cassino which drove in enemy outposts in the rugged mountain area and advanced in the face of the most determined German defense.

A headquarters spokesman cautioned against any undue optimism over the initial gains both north and south of Cassino and declared much stiff fighting lay ahead before the German defenses in those areas could be pierced.

In the Liri valley, he said, the enemy has constructed many pill-boxes and converted houses into miniature forts.

The capture of Monte Faltio by the French was considered one of the major accomplishments of the first day of the big offensive since it was a strong point upon which the enemy hinged the first line of his bastions in that area.

MOTHERS' DAY

Tomorrow is Mothers' Day, a day set aside to pay tribute to all Mothers, those who remain with us and those who have gone before.

In reverence and respect it is second only to Christmas, the birthday of Christ the King, and Easter, the anniversary of His resurrection.

On this, the third wartime Mothers' Day for American Mothers there will not be the customary rejoicing, for many thousands will be without their sons and daughters, because they have gone off to war. They are shouldering arms that all the world may soon again be freed from the bondage of oppression and the threat of a power-crazed band of nations who would conquer free peoples under the iron heel of an oppressor.

Wherever these absent sons and daughters may be, and whatever their assigned tasks, they will pause and pay tribute to their Mothers, the truly Gold Star heroes of the world.

No tribute can be too great for Mothers. All the world owes them a debt of gratitude that can never be fully repaid. Their love and their grief knows no bound. Our admiration and respect should have no limit.

Wear a red flower if your Mother is living . . . a white flower if she has gone to her eternal reward.

The program for May 30 calls for the company to march at 2 o'clock in the parade here at Gettysburg and at 6 p. m. at New Oxford. A number of other invitations were received, it was announced by Capt. C. Arthur Brame, but because of conflicting hours, only the first invitations could be accepted.

ALLIES REMAIN STEADFAST FOR FULL VICTORY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The great Allied assault on Hitler's festung Europa at last is under way to determine how much wisdom there has been in his strategy of fighting a defensive war, of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms.

The Fuehrer does at times exhibit unusual perspicacity in gauging the reactions of the humanity which he once hoped to enslave. So it has been with his gamble that some fortuitous circumstance might give him a break. He has, of course, long been fishing for peace, but the unconditional surrender demanded by the Allies was more than he could take. So he rolled the dice.

Sure enough, advocates that unconditional surrender be abandoned are cropping up in this and other Allied countries. Thus the Nazi dictator's much-advised intuition again has been right—up to a point. To just what point remains to be seen as Armageddon unfolds.

Hold To Terms

Secretary of State Hull said earlier this week that, despite inquiries from nearly every continent, he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the unconditional surrender formula. There has been no indication either that the other Allies have changed their minds.

It's true that America, Britain and Russia long ago told the Axis satellites in almost so many words that terms would be made easier for them if they abandoned Hitler. And yesterday the Big Three came out flatly with a pre-invasion ultimatum to Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary that they must abandon Germany now or suffer "disastrous consequences."

I think a good deal of confusion has grown out of a misinterpretation of the term "unconditional surrender." It sounds tough, but it doesn't in itself carry any horrible penalties. It merely means that the victors will decide on the peace terms and are not prepared to bargain. The terms imposed may be very lenient or very harsh, but it is the victors and not the vanquished who say which it shall be.

All-Out Victory

The question of the little satellites is, relatively speaking, not a matter of moment. However, the consensus of Allied statesmen, military men and professional observers is that the Allies will have failed in their war aims if they don't exact unconditional surrender from Germany and Japan.

We have sworn that Nazism and Prussian militarism shall be utterly destroyed in Germany, and that militarism shall be pulled up by the roots in Japan. We've sworn that the territories stolen by both countries shall be returned to their rightful owners. We've sworn to render both Germany and Japan utterly impotent militarily. We've sworn to punish war guilt.

Synthetic Peace

How, say you, could we achieve all this unless unconditional surrender were exacted—unless we dictated the terms? Obviously it would be impossible. Thousands of our boys who already have made the great sacrifice, and other thousands who at this moment are guiding themselves for the bloody beaches of D-day, would have fought for a will-o'-the-wisp.

The Germans are great on synthetic productions. The thing we've got to watch out for is that they don't put over a synthetic peace.

Still, while the Allies propose to purge Germany and Japan (and the rest of 'em so far as they deserve), we have no intention of reverting to carterism to do it. It's the Allied purpose to help the defeated nations to become useful citizens in a decent world.

Cut Ceiling Price On Hogs Over 240 Lbs.

Formal action to reduce the ceiling price of live hogs weighing over 240 pounds by 75 cents per hundredweight has been taken by the Office of Price Administration. It was announced today at the district OPA office.

The action, which will be effective May 15, was taken to discourage the feeding of grain, especially corn, to heavyweight hogs and to encourage the marketing of hogs before they reach 240 pounds.

To provide a record of prices paid, sellers must keep an invoice or receipt of each sale of hogs weighing not more than 250 pounds each and hogs weighing more than 240 pounds each, together with the name of the person who weighed the hogs and the place and date of the weighing.

NIPPON THREAT IN CHINA VEERS TO CHUNGKING

By J. B. KRUEGER

Associated Press War Editor

Japan's large-scale offensive in China, turning ominously in the direction of Chungking, dwarfed all other operations in the Asiatic-Pacific theater today (Saturday).

Loyang, some 500 airline miles northeast of the wartime capital, was besieged from three sides. The Japanese cut the Lunghai railroad 48 miles east of Loyang, blocking a main retreat route for thousands of Chinese defending the city.

Another enemy force was within five miles of the north Honan rail junction, which is a gateway toward the mountain passes through which Chungking can be reached. A third force striking from the east was about 15 miles away.

From the German radio came a "Shanghai report" that Lushan, 60 miles south of Loyang, had been occupied by the enemy. If true, this advance would signify expansion of the Japanese hold on the Hankow-Peiping railway.

Allied Threat

Another Japanese force stabbed to within 10 or 12 miles of Sungshien, 45 miles southwest toward Chungking—of Loyang.

These offensives put the Japanese well below the Yellow river for the first time since 1938 and in position to gamble on knocking China out of the war before the Allies can gain coastal China as a base for attacking Japan's home islands.

The Japanese were worried, however, foreseeing a probable American offensive sprung from the Aleutians. A Tokyo commentator said the Kurile islands were being prepared for such an onslaught.

In India Allied air forces gave strong support to British troops striving to wipe out Japanese lodged near Kohima, border city which guards a supply line to Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops in Burma.

Air forces in the Pacific widened the scope of their unrelenting assaults. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in the southwest Pacific, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in the central Pacific, commenced a shuttle bombing of Truk with three strikes, in four days from the alternate theaters.

Civil Aviation May Use Base At Bermuda

Washington, May 13 (AP)—Diplomatic officials here expect that the great American-built air base at Bermuda eventually will be made available for international civil aviation despite the fact that such use now is prohibited by the 99-year lease under which Britain made the area available to this country.

Similar internationalization also may be applied to other strategically located units in the chain of eight 99-year bases. The whole question probably will be settled as part of the aviation conferences, scheduled to be held here later this year.

The subject was brought to the fore by Lord Beaverbrook, the lord privy seal, who told Commons two days ago that the leases by which Britain granted the bases to this country in 1940 prohibit their use for civil purposes—notably aviation—after the war.

Satellites May Get Lenient Armistices

Washington, May 13 (AP)—A further definition of "unconditional surrender" including assurance that Germany's allies can earn comparatively lenient armistice terms by dropping the Axis now, appeared today in the three-power declaration to the satellites.

While the United States, Russia and Britain warned Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Finland that their part in the war will not be forgotten, they were told that they still have a chance to finish the war on the Allied side.

The declaration did not state specifically whether they might hope for the co-belligerency status accorded Italy and there is little likelihood that Prince Paul, regent of Bulgaria, or Admiral Horthy of Hungary will be offered any such path out of the picture as is being trod by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

Trolley Passengers Become Motormen

Advice For Inductees

The American Legion color guard for the meeting included Lawrence Sheads, George Boehner, Joseph E. Smith and Paul Spangler. E. A. Moser, Jr., was the bugler.

All of the speakers urged the men to make allowances for their families within the first 15 days they are in the service. While they can make allotments at any time, or the families at home can secure the allotments, "the allowances come through much faster if you make application as soon as you enter the service."

Dependency allotments can also be made for parents when allotments are made for wife and children, it was said. The Army pays the first allotment within a few days after the inductee applies for it at the induction center. The second allotment is made within 60 or 90 days. The Navy's first allotment is sent out within about 60 days after application is made, it was stated.

Emergency furloughs can be granted in the event of great need for almost all men in the service, even if they have just entered the induction center. Mr. Strader asserted.

WAR BONDS in Action

ALLIES REMAIN STEADFAST FOR FULL VICTORY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
The great Allied assault on Hitler's festering Europe at last is underway to determine how much wisdom there has been in his strategy of fighting a defensive war of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms.

The Fuehrer does at times exhibit unusual perspicacity in gauging the reactions of the humanity which he once hoped to enslave. So it has been with his gamble that some fortuitous circumstance might give him a break. He has, of course, long been fishing for peace, but the unconditional surrender demanded by the Allies was more than he could take. So he rolled the dice.

Sure enough, advocates that unconditional surrender be abandoned are cropping up in this and other Allied countries. Thus the Nazi dictator's much advertised intuition again has been right—up to a point. To just what point remains to be seen as Armageddon unfolds.

Hold To Terms

Secretary of State Hull said earlier this week that, despite inquiries from nearly every continent, he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the unconditional surrender formula. There has been no indication either that the other Allies have changed their minds.

It's true that America, Britain and Russia long ago told the Axis satellites in almost so many words that terms would be made easier for them if they abandoned Hitler. And yesterday the Big Three came out flatly with a pre-invasion ultimatum to Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary that they must abandon Germany now or suffer "disastrous consequences."

I think a good deal of confusion has grown out of a misinterpretation of the term "unconditional surrender." It sounds tough, but it doesn't in itself carry any horrible penalties. It merely means that the victors will decide on the peace terms and are not prepared to bargain. The terms imposed may be very lenient or very harsh, but it is the victors and not the vanquished who say which it shall be.

All-Out Victory

The question of the little satellites is, relatively speaking, not a matter of moment. However, the consensus of Allied statesmen, military men and professional observers is that the Allies will have failed in their chief war aims if they don't exact unconditional surrender from Germany and Japan.

We have sworn that Nazism and Prussian militarism shall be utterly destroyed in Germany, and that militarism shall be pulled up by the roots in Japan. We've sworn that the territories stolen by both countries shall be returned to their rightful owners. We've sworn to render both Germany and Japan utterly impotent militarily. We've sworn to punish war guilt.

Synthetic Peace

How, say you, could we achieve all this unless unconditional surrender were exacted—unless we dictated the terms? Obviously it would be impossible. Thousands of our boys who already have made the great sacrifice, and other thousands who at this moment are girding themselves for the bloody beaches of D-day, would have fought for a will-o'-the-wisp.

The Germans are great on synthetic productions. The thing we've got to watch out for is that they don't put over a synthetic peace.

Still, while the Allies propose to purge Germany and Japan (and the rest of 'em so far as they deserve), we have no intention of reverting to barbarism to do it. It's the Allied purpose to help the defeated nations to become useful citizens in a decent world.

Cut Ceiling Price On Hogs Over 240 Lbs.

Formal action to reduce the ceiling price of live hogs weighing over 240 pounds by 75 cents per hundredweight has been taken by the Office of Price Administration. It was announced today at the district OPA office.

The action, which will be effective May 15, was taken to discourage the feeding of grain, especially corn, to heavyweight hogs and to encourage the marketing of hogs before they reach 240 pounds.

To provide a record of prices paid, sellers must keep an invoice or receipt of each sale of hogs weighing not more than 250 pounds each and hogs weighing more than 240 pounds each, together with the name of the person who weighed the hogs and the place and date of the weighing.

Satellites May Get Lenient Armistices

Washington, May 13 (AP)—A further definition of "unconditional surrender" including assurance that Germany's allies can earn comparatively lenient armistice terms by dropping the Axis now, appeared today in the three-power declaration to the satellites.

While the United States, Russia and Britain warned Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland that their part in the war will not be forgotten, they were told that they still have a chance to finish the war on the Allied side.

The declaration did not state specifically whether they might hope for the co-belligerency status accorded Italy and there is little likelihood that Prince Paul, regent of Bulgaria, or Admiral Horthy of Hungary will be offered any such path out of the picture as is being trod by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

Trolley Passengers Become Motormen

Verona, N. J., May 13 (AP)—Four trolley car commuters from Verona to Newark, seven miles distant, found a new solution to the standing-room-only problem.

They applied for part-time jobs as motormen with the Public Service Company of New Jersey and now drive the cars instead of crowding in as passengers.

field director; Lt. Commander Strong Booser of the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot and Lt. Col. Daniels were the speakers.

Advice For Inductees

The American Legion color guard for the meeting included Lawrence Sheads, George Boehner, Joseph E. Smith and Paul Spangler. E. A. Moser, Jr., was the bugler.

All of the speakers urged the men to make allowances for their families within the first 15 days they are in the service. While they can make allotments at any time, or the families at home can secure the allotments, "the allowances come through much faster if you make application as soon as you enter the service."

Dependency allotments can also be made for parents when allotments are made for wife and children, it was said. The Army pays the first allotment within a few days after the inductee applies for it at the induction center. The second allotment is made within 60 or 90 days. The Navy's first allotment is sent out within about 60 days after application is made, it was stated.

Emergency furloughs can be granted in the event of great need for almost all men in the service, even if they have just entered the induction center, Mr. Strader asserted.

FACES TWO CHARGES

William E. Knipple, Gettysburg R. 3, was charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Friday with operating a motorcycle too fast for conditions and making too much noise with the vehicle. The charges were filed by Borough Officer Clark Staley. A ten-day notice was given Knipple.

LANIER IS TOP FLINGER WITH 5 STRAIGHT WINS

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Max Lanier, the "hard luck guy" of the 1943 world series, ranks today as the top pitcher of the major leagues with a five-game winning streak for the front running St. Louis Cardinals.

Although Hank Borowy of the Yankees also is undefeated, the Cards' chunky southpaw from Denton, N. C. has won one more game than the New York ace and rates the top spot by allowing only six runs and 30 hits in 45 innings. His latest effort was a 7-2 decision last night over his old "cousins" from Brooklyn whom he has stopped 15 times in 23 tries during his career.

Night Games Popular
After blanking Pittsburgh on opening day, 2-0, the Carolina currier twice topped Chicago, and whipped Cincinnati before last night's seven-hitter against the Dodgers.

Night ball continued to pull out the crowds with 47,501 paying to see the three after dark engagements to an aggregate of 13,957 for five daytime frays.

The St. Louis Browns lashed out with 15 hits, scoring five times to flatten Early Wynn in the first inning, stopping Washington, 6-4, behind Bob Muncie. By the night victory, Luke Sewell's persistent crew went back into first place in the American because the Yankees were beaten by Detroit's Hal Newhouse, 10-4. Pinky Higgins helped Hal become the first left-hander to trim the champs this season by belting a homer and two singles to drive in five runs.

Bobo Newsom was at his best before a "first night" audience of 19,708 at Philadelphia and rationed Chicago to five hits in hurling the A's to a 4-2 verdict.

Medwick Bench
Boston did its part in boosting the day's big league hit total to 170 by collecting 14 behind Tex Hughson in a 10-3 slaughter of Cleveland.

Mel Ott benched Ducky Medwick despite his 366 average and the New York Giants squeezed past Cincinnati 5-3 using three pitchers.

Charley Schanz lifted the Phils into second place by trimming Chicago with 8 hits 9-3 and the Boston Braves revelled in their newfound batting punch by slugging Pittsburgh 10-3.

ARENDSVILLE BEATS Y.S. 11-2

Arendtsville high won its third straight baseball victory Friday afternoon by defeating York Springs high at Arendtsville 11-2.

A four-run attack in the fourth inning and a five-run assault in the sixth gave the Apple Pickers an easy victory.

Paul Fissel granted but four singles to his opponents while his teammates collected 15, Allison and Hall each being good for three safeties.

3 Southern Schools Plan Grid Campaign

El Paso, Tex., May 13 (AP)—Three border conference colleges—New Mexico, Texas Tech and West Texas State—are preparing to field teams in this fall's gridiron campaign. And Arizona State wants to compete if Navy permission is granted.

That picture of football prospects in the sagebrush country emerged from the annual spring meeting of border conference representatives last night. There was no indication of a resumption by the other five member schools.

CHALLENGE CUP FINALS

New York, May 13 (AP)—A crowd of 15,000 is expected to turn out at the Polo Grounds tomorrow where Brooklyn Hispano, defending champions, meet Morgan Strassers, of Pittsburgh, in the final of the national challenge cup soccer competition. Hispano beat the Strassers last year, 3 to 2.

Mt. St. Mary's Nine Loses To Loyola 12-2

Loyola college won its first home game of the baseball season by defeating Mount St. Mary's Navy Trainee nine, 12-2, in a seven-inning game Friday at Baltimore.

Dan Feeney pitched for the Greyhounds, allowing five hits, fanning six and walking three. Errors prevented a good chance for him to have a shutout.

Harry Hughes, of Denton, Maryland, worked the first five innings on the mound for Mount St. Mary's. He was touched for seven runs off six hits.

Rodgers and Hall, who divided the last few innings among them, were very wild. In the seventh, after five straight Loyola batters were walked with two out, Sid Roche fanned to end the game, which was terminated by agreement.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON
New York, May 13 (AP)—The old timers who have been moaning that there was nothing left to baseball but crude slugging, apparently will have plenty of chances this season to see how they like the old play-for-a-run contest. . . . look at these sample headlines from one day:

"Yankees' bunts trim Detroit."
"White Sox triumph on Trosky's steal in 16th," and "Indians trounce two men off base." . . . With Beau Jack going into the Army, it looks as if Willie Pep will be boxing's next big drawing card. Manager Lou Viscusi says he's starting a waiting list with offers from Milwaukee, Cleveland and New York on hand.

If the favorite is beaten at Pimlico this afternoon, would you say the Preakness is an ex-Pensive race?

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "The War Production Board has turned down a request of the Chicago Cubs for equipment for night baseball. The only alternative the Cubs seem to have either to use the White Sox park or quit getting the daylight knocked out of them."

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Actor Paul Robeson, all America end at Rutgers in 1918, was agile enough to bust up a softball game in Central Park yesterday by making three crucial hits. That gave the "Othello-Oklahoma" team the theater guild title, but most of them played as if they should be farmed out to some place like Othello, Oklahoma. . . . Tomorrow's national soccer cup final between the Brooklyn Hispanos and the Pittsburgh Morgan Strassers will mark the first time in 24 years that the same pair of finalists have met in successive years. . . . Jose Aja, Hispano outside right, turned Nelson Rockefeller in Spanish and accompanied him during his tour of South America. . . . In spite of denials, the best word we can get is that the story about Princeton quitting football is the McCoy and Asa Bushnell quit as Tiger graduate manager because he couldn't reconcile muscle jerking with his post as head of the Central Athletic office.

A ROOKIE A DAY

A., and three in the playoffs. . . . only loss so far this year came when the Reds were shut out.

New Oxford
New Oxford. — Improvements have been made this week to the public square, and the benches, which had been stored during the winter, have been replaced there. Miss Lottie Cashman has returned home after spending the winter in Pittsburgh.

The Misses Martha Weaver and Aileen Wolford, Harrisburg, visited their families during the week. Mr. and Mrs. George Sheely have had as a house guest their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Schantz, Pittsburgh.

Improvement is reported in the condition of Miss Dorothy Miller, who is convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, after treatment at a West Chester hospital. Miss Miller was stricken at the West Chester State Teachers' college, where she is a junior.

The Pine Run schoolhouse, near here, closed this week for the 1943-44 school year. Gerald Orndorff is teacher.

John Staub, who has been quite ill, has been taken to the Hanover hospital for further treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Miller have received word of the birth of a daughter to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, Baltimore, early this week.

Children of St. Mary's Parochial school and members of the Blessed Virgin Sodality will participate in the annual May Procession at St. Mary's Catholic church Sunday evening at 7:30. The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, will be in charge.

Arthur Noel has been quite ill at his home this week.

LITTLESTOWN HALTS BIGLER

A seven-game winning streak of the Biglerville high school baseball team was stopped Friday afternoon when Littlestown nosed out the Caniers 8-7 in a game played at Biglerville.

Biglerville played ragged ball, committing eight errors which contributed heavily to its defeat.

In the final frame Littlestown scored twice when a fly ball was allowed to drop between shortstop and left field after a mixup occurred on who was to field the ball. Biglerville pushed over a run in its final try and had the tying run on base when the final out was made.

The victory gave the Senators a clean sweep of the two-game series and five wins in the six starts at home. They registered 16 hits off three hurlers.

Second-place Wilkes-Barre downed Williamsport's Grays, 11 to 8, as 17-year-old Francis Maloney gained credit for his first victory of the season with a fine six-inning relief job. They wind up the series here this afternoon in the circuit's only game for the day.

Hartford split a doubleheader with Utica, 3 to 2, and 0 to 2, in which the Laurels suffered their first setback since last Sunday.

LANIER IS TOP FLINGER WITH 5 STRAIGHT WINS

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Max Lanier, the "hard luck guy" of the 1943 world series, ranks today as the top pitcher of the major leagues with a five-game winning streak for the front running St. Louis Cardinals.

Although Hank Borowy of the Yankees also is undefeated, the Cards' chunky southpaw from Denton, N. C. has won one more game than the New York ace and rates the top spot by allowing only six runs and 30 hits in 45 innings. His latest effort was a 7-2 decision last night over his old "cousins" from Brooklyn whom he has stopped 16 times in 23 tries during his career.

Night Games Popular
After blanking Pittsburgh on opening day, 2-0, the Carolina curve twice topped Chicago, and whipped Cincinnati before last night's seven-hit victory against the Dodgers.

Night ball continued to pull out the crowds with 47,501 paying to see the three after dark engagements to an aggregate of 13,957 for five daytime frays.

The St. Louis Browns lashed out with 15 hits, scoring five times to flatten Early Wynn in the first inning, stopping Washington, 6-4, behind Bob Muncie. By the night victory, Luke Sewell's persistent crew went back into first place in the American because the Yankees were beaten by Detroit's Hal Newhouser, 10-4. Pinky Higgins helped Hal become the first left-hander to trim the champs this season by belting a homer and two singles to drive in five runs.

Bobo Newsom was at his best before a "first night" audience of 19,708 at Philadelphia and rationed Chicago to five hits in hurling the A's to a 4-2 verdict.

Medwick Benched
Boston did its part in boosting the day's big league hit total to 170 by collecting 14 behind Tex Hughson in a 10-3 slaughter of Cleveland.

Mel Ott benched Ducky Medwick despite his 366 average and the New York Giants squeezed past Cincinnati 5-3 using three pitchers.

Charley Schanz lifted the Phils into second place by trimming Chicago with 8 hits 9-3 and the Boston Braves reveled in their new-found batting punch by slugging Pittsburgh 10-3.

ARENDTSTVILLE BEATS Y.S. 11-2

Arendtville high won its third straight baseball victory Friday afternoon by defeating York Springs high at Arendtville 11-2.

A four-run attack in the fourth inning and a five-run assault in the sixth gave the Apple Pickers an easy victory.

Paul Fissel granted but four singles to his opponents while his teammates collected 15, Allison and Hall each being good for three safeties.

3 Southern Schools Plan Grid Campaign

El Paso, Tex., May 13 (AP)—Three border conference colleges—New Mexico, Texas Tech and West Texas State—are preparing to field teams in this fall's gridiron campaign. And Arizona State wants to compete if Navy permission is granted.

That picture of football prospects in the sagebrush country emerged from the annual spring meeting of border conference representatives last night. There was no indication of a resumption by the other five member schools.

CHALLENGE CUP FINALS

New York, May 13 (AP)—A crowd of 15,000 is expected to turn out at the Polo Grounds tomorrow where Brooklyn Hispano, defending champions, meet Morgan Strassers, of Pittsburgh, in the final of the national challenge cup soccer competition. Hispano beat the Strassers last year, 3 to 2.

Mt. St. Mary's Nine Loses To Loyola 12-2

Loyola college won its first home game of the baseball season by defeating Mount St. Mary's Navy Trainee nine, 12-2, in a seven-inning game Friday at Baltimore.

Dan Feeney pitched for the Greyhounds, allowing five hits, fanning six and walking three. Errors prevented a good chance for him to have a shutout.

Harry Hughes, of Denton, Maryland, worked the first five innings on the mound for Mount St. Mary's. He was touched for seven runs off six hits.

Rodgers and Hall, who divided the last few innings among them, were very wild. In the seventh, after five straight Loyola batters were walked with two out, Sid Roche fanned to end the game, which was terminated by agreement.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON

New York, May 13 (AP)—The old timers who have been moaning that there was nothing left to baseball but crude slugging, apparently will have plenty of chances this season to see how they like the old play-for-a-run contest. . . . look at these sample headlines from one day: "Yankees" bunts trim Detroit. "White Sox triumph on Trotsky's steal in 19th." and "Indians trap two men off base." . . . With Beau Jack going into the Army, it looks as if Willie Pep will be boxing's next big drawing card. Manager Lou Viscusi says he's starting a waiting list with offers from Milwaukee, Cleveland and New York on hand. . . . If the favorite is beaten at Pimlico this afternoon, would you say the Preakness is an ex-Pensive race?

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "The War Production Board has turned down a request of the Chicago Cubs for equipment for night baseball. The only alternative the Cubs seem to have either to use the White Sox park or quit getting the daylight knocked out of them."

SHORTS AND SHEELS

Actor Paul Robeson, all America end at Rutgers in 1918, was agile enough to bust up a softball game in Central Park yesterday by making three crucial hits. That gave the "Othello-Oklahoma" team the theater guild title, but most of them played as if they should be farmed out to some place like Othello, Oklahoma. . . . Tomorrow's national soccer cup final between the Brooklyn Hispanos and the Pittsburgh Morgan Strassers will mark the first time in 24 years that the same pair of finalists have met in successive years. . . . Jose Aja, Hispano outside right, turned Nelson Rockefeller in Spanish and accompanied him during his tour of South America. . . . In spite of denials, the best word we can get is that the story about Princeton quitting football is the McCoy and Asa Bushnell quit as Tiger graduate manager because he couldn't reconcile muscle jerking with his post as head of the Central Athletic office.

The Pine Run schoolhouse, near here, closed this week for the 1943-44 school year. Gerad Orndorff is teacher.

John Staub, who has been quite ill, has been taken to the Hanover hospital for further treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Miller have received word of the birth of a daughter to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, Baltimore, early this week.

LITTLESTOWN HALTS BIGLER

A seven-game winning streak of the Biglerville high school baseball team was stopped Friday afternoon when Littlestown nosed out the Canners 8-7 in a game played at Biglerville.

Biglerville played ragged ball ahead, committing eight errors which contributed heavily to its defeat.

In the final frame Littlestown scored twice when a fly ball was allowed to drop between shortstop and left field after a mixup occurred on who was to field the ball. Biglerville pushed over a run in its final try and had the tying run on base when the final out was made.

(By The Associated Press)

Albany's Senators tightened their eastern league leadership last night with an impressive 15-to-1 wind-up of their home stand at the expense of Binghamton's Triplets.

The victory gave the Senators a clean sweep of the two-game series and five wins in the six starts at home. They registered 16 hits off three hurlers.

Second-place Wilkes-Barre downed Williamsport's Grays, 11 to 8, as 17-year-old Francis Maloney gained credit for his first victory of the season with a fine six-inning relief job. They wind up the series here this afternoon in the circuit's only game for the day.

Hartford split a doubleheader with Utica, 3 to 2, and 0 to 2, in which the Laurels suffered their first setback since last Sunday.

Scranton's Red-Sox also divided a twin bill with Elmira, 2 to 7 and 10 to 1.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

For safety's sake watch out for green or yellow drivers are red lights.

You may think it is just a bit of fussing but it makes all the difference in the world whether your car's hydraulic brakes are treated to recognized brands of fluid or are fed anything that comes along. I saw a master cylinder today that was so badly corroded by inferior fluid that it could not be re-used even after careful honing. An entire new master cylinder assembly had to be installed, the parts alone costing $5.50. Eventually, too, the owner will need to have the brake cylinders replaced, for what eats into the master cylinder's innards will destroy the efficiency of the individual wheel cylinders as well. Incidentally, it is best to let this further trouble take its course. Cylinders leak gradually, giving you ample warning of need for replacing them.

One For The Book
While it is true that pitted brake points often are as good as those that are a smooth fit, because the hills and valleys make for greater area of contact, this does not hold after the points have changed position following a readjustment of their gap. After this change they are sure to meet on the high points only and thus have less than normal area of contact. Once you have changed their position either clean and readjust them or replace them.

Tip-Off on Trouble
I have an interesting inquiry from a reader and believe that it is deserving of a special paragraph because it touches on a subject that bothers many a driver. He simply wants to know how he can tell whether the engine is refusing to start because it is flooded or because the carburetor float chamber is dry, but it represents a mighty big question mark for many a puzzled operator. Oddly enough, it is easy to differentiate between these two conditions. Simply note if there is smell of gasoline at the exhaust. An overhauled, flooded engine will cause its exhaust to emit strong smell of fuel during the cranking process. Another tip-off is the fact that during the cranking there may be feeble attempts at starting. With no fuel in the float bowl there is no exhaust smell, and no signs of engine activity whatever.

You may think you are favoring the engine alone when you give it a chance to warm up a bit before starting out but in addition you are sparing the drive line, universals and rear end a lot of abuse. When an engine misses or jerks the driver line is unnecessarily punished.

Your car is easier to stop as it slows down. This may seem trite, and you'll probably say that you've always known it. Actually, however, you'll find that your natural tendency is to forget the rule completely in an emergency and that you'll press harder on the brakes as you approach the danger even if the car's speed has been sharply curbed.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"I shouldn't get disturbed over anyone or anything these days because everyone's under tension, but I'll have to get off my chest the way I feel about motorists who resent having me take in too much territory when trying to get to a solution to one of their problems. Sometimes I uncover a mess of more serious trouble, but if I don't manage to get rid of their special worry they immediately take the stance that I have wasted their time and money. As a matter of fact, anything you do by way of trying to find out what ails a car is a step in the right direction because it is a form of intensified inspection. You may seem to be delayed in arriving at a solution to your most pressing problem but the detours will still be profitable. Time spent in a repair shop never is wasted."

A poor time to stop for gasoline is when the battery is weak, for unless current is up to par the electric type of gas gauge won't register accurately. It will show less fuel than the tank actually holds, a fact that may result in the sad sight of seeing the tank overflow.

Viewing it another way, don't be alarmed should the gauge show less fuel than you thought you had. The difference may be due to the battery being low after running the car awhile you'll probably find that the gauge shows a better situation at the tank.

I don't care how hopeless the battery may be always remember to wait awhile before sending an SOS for help. Five minutes may make a difference, but ten minutes are still better. I had some difficulties today with a reluctant motor, and before I realized it the battery had given what seemed to be its last gasp. Remembering to follow my own advice I sat down for five minutes and gave the battery a chance to recover a bit. Then I touched the starter-button and away she went. Of course I remembered to pump on the accelerator before switching on the ignition or using the starter, and I also held the clutch pedal down to make the starting job as easy as possible for the battery.

Apparently it is not too generally known that the reason so many parts are stocked only in right-hand or left-hand form is because they can be made to serve in either position. The change can often be made merely by rotating a portion of the part or by utilizing a portion of the old part that is being replaced. A good illustration is found in the sun visors which usually have a swivel support that can be used for either the right-hand position or the left.

extreme the driver actually has to lift the car a little when he turns the steering wheel to extreme positions. If, therefore, the car is hard to park, assuming the tires are up to proper inflation and the steering system is well lubricated, the difficulty hints of high camber. Another indication of this is a tendency for the steering wheel to snap back to the straight ahead position too vigorously after you have turned a corner.

Asked About Automobiles
Q. Since installing new breaker points I have been unable to get good results from the engine. Clearances seem to be right and there is sufficient tension on the spring of the moveable arm. Condenser is of the right capacity. H. H. L.

A. Perhaps you forced the stationary arm on its post. The older style arms will bend a little if forced, thus making it difficult to get proper face contact between the points. I think it would be worth your while to install a new stationary arm. If it is going to fit too tightly over its post just ream the hole a little larger.

Q. How can I tell if the lower water hose sucks inward when the engine is running fast as when going uphill in second gear? I have a notion that this would account for overheating of my engine. S. Mc. N.

A. You can observe the hose when the engine is being raced with the car standing still.

Q. The front tires of my car are definitely wearing smooth along the center of the treads. Does this indicate incorrect camber? R.L.A.

The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Justice Opens Office: Walter A. Snyder, Chambersburg street, appointed justice of the peace recently by Governor Pinchot, has opened an office in Room 8, second floor of the Kadel building, Center Square.

Mercury Hits 89 Degrees for New May High: More than a month ahead of summer's official opening, residents of Gettysburg and Adams county sweltered in the hottest early May week-end since 1930.

On Saturday the temperature here was 87 degrees and on Sunday the mercury rose to 89 degrees, according to Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather recorder.

2,000 Knights Templar Here for Services: Knights Templar, the militant order of Masonry, held their fourth annual symbolic Ascension festival service in the National Cemetery here Sunday.

More than 2,000 Knights, in characteristic attire, stood before the rostrum in the cemetery and heard a talk given by Dr. Milton H. Nichols, grand prelate of the Pennsylvania commandery.

The local committee comprised the Rev. L. B. Hafer, Charles W. Myers, Arthur E. Hutchison, Lloyd C. Keefe and Edgar A. Moser.

Contracts Diphtheria: Mrs. Paul B. Ramer, Chambersburg street, has contracted diphtheria. She is described as "quite ill."

Local Business Man Is Married: Howard Tracy Marling, proprietor of a sheet metal store on Baltimore street, and Miss Charlotte Edith Mehning, of Littlestown, were married at St. James Reformed church, near Littlestown, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The Rev. D. W. Bickler performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Marling have gone to housekeeping at 327 Baltimore street.

New Street Lights Here To Go On May 25: Gettysburg's enlarged "white way" will be turned on May 25, unless inclement weather prevents workmen from continuing their work of erecting the standards.

Seniors Win "Olympia" at High School: By a single point, the senior class of Gettysburg high school won the inter-class "Olympia" held Thursday afternoon on the high school athletic field in observance of May Day. The final tabulations gave the seniors 76 points and the juniors 75.

A procession of the competitors led by Miss Charlotte Waltemeyer, May Day queen, marched from the high school building to the stands where the queen was crowned by Harmon Purney, selected as the best all around high school boy.

Dieck Heintzelman, crown bearer; Barbara Wolff and Ann von Schwertner, flower girls, and ten court girls made up Miss Waltemeyer's train.

Officials for the olympia were Miss Ruth Scott, Miss Ruth McIlhenny, Miss Mary Jane Snyder, Miss Louise Ramer, Miss Ruth Spangler, Fred Hachlein, Ira Baker, Guile W. Lefever, Edwin Longacker, Harold Thomas, Miss Martha Larson, Robert Fidler.

The entire program was in charge of George Forney, assisted by Miss Rhelda Green.

A meeting of all the mothers of the boys' band was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Harriet Redding, Emmitsburg road.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

For safety's sake watch out, for green or yellow drivers are red lights.

You may think it is just a bit of fussing but it makes all the difference in the world whether your car's hydraulic brakes are treated to recognized brands of fluid or are fed anything that comes along. I saw a master cylinder today that was so badly corroded by inferior fluid that it could not be re-used even after careful honing. An entire new master cylinder assembly had to be installed, the parts alone costing $5.50. Eventually, too, the owner will need to have the brake cylinders replaced, for what eats into the master cylinder's innards will destroy the efficiency of the individual wheel cylinders as well. Incidentally, it is best to let this further trouble take its course. Cylinders leak gradually, giving you ample warning of need for replacing them.

Tip-Off on Trouble

I have an interesting inquiry from a reader and believe that it is deserving of a special paragraph because it touches on a subject that bothers many a driver. He simply wants to know now he can tell whether the engine is refusing to start because it is flooded or because the carburetor float chamber is dry, but it represents a mighty big question mark for many a puzzled operator. Oddly enough, it is easy to differentiate between these two conditions. Simply note if there is smell of gasoline at the exhaust. An overchoked, flooded engine will cause its exhaust to emit strong smell of fuel during the cranking process. Another tip-off is the fact that during the cranking there may be feeble attempts at starting. With no fuel in the float bowl there is no exhaust smell, and no signs of engine activity whatever.

You may think you are favoring the engine alone when you give it a chance to warm up a bit before starting out but in addition you are sparing the drive line, universals and rear end a lot of abuse. When an engine misses or jerks the driver line is unnecessarily punished.

Your car is easier to stop as it slows down. This may seem trite, and you'll probably say that you've always known it. Actually, however, you'll find that your natural tendency is to forget the rule completely in an emergency and that you'll press harder on the brakes as you approach the danger even if the car's speed has been sharply curbed.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "I shouldn't get disturbed over anyone or anything these days because everyone's under tension. But I'll have to get off my chest the way I feel about motorists who resent having me take in too much territory when trying to get to a solution to one of their problems. Sometimes I uncover a mess of more serious trouble, but if I don't manage to get rid of their special worry they immediately take the stand that I have wasted their time and money. As a matter of fact, anything you do by way of trying to find out what ails a car is a step in the right direction because it is a form of intensified inspection. You may seem to be delayed in arriving at a solution to your most pressing problem but the detours will still be profitable. Time spent in a repair shop never is wasted."

A poor time to stop for gasoline is when the battery is weak, for unless current is up to par the electric type of gas gauge won't register accurately. It will show less fuel than the tank actually holds, a fact that may result in the sad sight of seeing the tank overflow.

known that the reason so many parts are stocked only in right-hand or left-hand form is because they can be made to serve in either position. ## One For The Book

While it is true that pitted breaker points often are as good as those that are a smooth fit, because the hills and valleys make for greater area of contact, this does not hold after the points have changed position following a readjustment of their gap. After this change they are sure to meet on the high points only and thus have less than normal area of contact. Once you have changed their position either clean and readjust them or replace them.

A. No. When there is more wear on the tread center than along the edges, and this wear is very even all around, the tire is being carried under too high pressure.

Q. When should a new distributor rotor be installed? That is, how can an owner tell when such a replacement is needed? Wm. K. H.

A. If the rotor is cracked or if the tip is badly corroded a replacement is desirable. It is well to compare the old rotor with a new one in order to see if the dip is long enough. Often an old rotor's tip is worn down but has been filed off so often that it doesn't look to be corroded.

CURIOSITY

So much to see, so much to learn.
So much from day to day
Of intimate and small concern
Along the briefest way.
Or slow or fast I'm sure that I
Some mystery am passing by.

From heights the hawk and eagle
see
Upon the teeming earth,
Strange sights that are denied to me,
Of constant death and birth.
I wonder every step ahead
Upon what hidden charm I tread?

Still, as the curious youngster small
Who questioned why and how—
Eager to know life's secrets all,
So am I, even now,
Walking the world, with eyes aglow,
Wanting its mysteries to know.

Today's Talk

LIVING THE DEDICATED LIFE

Nothing spurs one to usefulness more than does the consciousness of responsibility and the personal realization that there is something very important that ought to be done by one, irrespective of anyone else.

In other words, each of us should feel in his heart that he must dedicate his life to an overall of usefulness, using the abilities and talents given to him at birth to their greatest end.

Those who have become the great benefactors to all mankind—discoverers, inventors, scientists, missionaries, teachers, artists, and such—have always been those who in their hearts dedicated themselves to a high purpose. And that has been the incentive that urged them on—gave them personal happiness and satisfaction. To feel that you are dedicated to a great idea or plan, is to own something that may be intangible, but it's something that places you among the permanent in life.

Those who dedicate themselves to the task of gaining for the world universal freedom, and those who follow these heroes and heroines, dedicating themselves to its preservation, are the ones who inspire all mankind in its trek toward decency, happiness, and a peaceful world—a world without fear, and a warless world.

Selfishness is all crowded out when you dedicate yourself to some noble purpose. The desire for such fleeting things as wealth, fame, and social glory, dies, and in their place is gained a spiritual calm that dispels all worry, flooding the mind with hope, and giving zest to every act in life.

The way is open for the humblest of us to dedicate his life to some useful purpose, or idea. All we have to do is to make a decision, and follow it out. There is always something needful that ought to be done. Opportunities await everywhere, and at all times. Living the dedicated life is to live the triumphant life.

Aids Bootlegger

Philadelphia, May 13 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin blames the restrictions placed by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board on the purchase of whiskey in state stores for the revival of "bootlegging."

In holding two men in bail for court yesterday on charges of possessing untaxed whiskey illegally and ordering a warrant for a ship's officer docked here, he said customers were looking to other channels for their supplies.

Edward A. Myers, 23, was held in $1,000 and Lewis Ranzulli, 41, in $2,500 bail.

North and South Carolina were U. S. as a naval base in 1887.

of making whatever adjustments are proper to assure maintenance of the hospital's high standard of service. The president said he expects the study to be completed within two weeks.

Monthly Report

Two hundred and eighty-five patients were admitted to the hospital during March and April according to reports presented at the meeting.

April was one of the busiest months in the hospital's history with 148 patients admitted, 138 discharged, six deaths, 41 births and 20 accidents treated. There were 54 patients at the hospital on the last day of the month and the average number of patients per day was 47. The births were divided between 22 female and 18 male.

In March 137 patients were admitted and 124 discharged. There were 10 deaths; 33 births, of which 19 were females and 14 males; 52 patients remained on the last day and the average number of patients was 42. Seventeen accident victims were treated during March.

SOLDIER VOTES TO BE PLACED IN LOCKED BOX

Harrisburg, May 13 (AP) — The State Department recommended today that ballots cast by Pennsylvanians under the Commonwealth's G-I vote program be placed in locked boxes and kept in a safe until the date for counting them.

The action is in line with assurances given the recent special legislative session which set up the simplified vote system that proper steps would be taken to safeguard returned ballots.

The Assembly provided only that county commissioners constituting boards of elections should keep ballots safe. Senator Harry Shapiro (D., Phila.) claimed this was "an invitation to fraud." He proposed double locks on boxes for returned ballots but was voted down.

Open November 22
"We will recommend to county boards next week that after ballots are received and checked with lists of eligible voters that they be deposited in locked ballot boxes which should be kept in the safe of the board of county commissioners," said a State Department official.

"Then the third Wednesday after the election, they will be taken out of the ballot box and checked to determine qualification of voters. The outside envelope will be removed and the inside one in which the ballot is sealed will be placed in a receptacle—a box or a mail bag—and after they are mixed up will be taken out and recorded."

Assistance of 903,000 volunteers in civilian war services of the State Defense Council in the forthcoming soldier vote canvass also was pledged by Mrs. Worthington Scranton, commander of the group.

ALLIES EXTEND OFFENSIVE IN PACIFIC AREA

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, May 13 (AP)—Moving the air war nearer the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur listed the Palau area today for the first time in his communiqués.

Palau, which stands like a gateway to the Philippines a little over 500 miles west of it, is the big Japanese Naval base which underwent its first attack of the war March 29 and 30 by carrier planes of a huge task force.

Now it is within range of MacArthur's land-based bombers 800 miles southeast at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and today he reported that a patrolling Liberator caused bomb damage Wednesday to a 1,000-ton enemy ship 300 miles east of Palau.

(The almost casual reference to the setting up of regular air patrols in the Palau area undoubtedly means the finishing touches have been completed on Hollandia's four captured airdromes and that land-based air attacks on both Palau and the southern Philippines may be in the offing.)

Strike At Truk

Headquarters also amplified today accounts of a destructive strike at Truk and reported a raid 200 miles west of it at Puluwat. Truk, Puluwat and Palau lie along a 1,175 mile stretch of the Caroline Islands now being pounded by south and southwest Pacific bombers.

The communiqué said Liberators which flew to Truk Wednesday caused "severe damage" to warehouses, hangar and repair shops with 96 tons of bombs, destroyed two grounded planes and shot down from six to eight others of 30 enemy interceptors.

Loss of a Liberator previously was acknowledged. Other bombers set fires at Mokmer airdrome in the Schouten Islands and poured 150 tons of explosives on Wake island Thursday. More than 100 tons were expended in the Wewak area.

CROSSES U. S. IN NEW TIME

New York, May 13 (AP)—A new transcontinental flight speed record—six hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds—set by Col. Clair Peterson in a sleek P-51 Mustang fighter plane carrying full battle equipment—was written into aviation annals today.

Peterson, a resident of Fargo, North Dakota, made the spectacular flight from Los Angeles to New York yesterday, arriving at LaGuardia Field eight minutes before another Mustang, which had taken off from Los Angeles a minute ahead of him, landed.

The second plane, was piloted by Lt. Col. Jack H. Carter, of Pasadena, California, whose time was six hours, 39 minutes and 30 seconds.

Both ships, stock models fresh from the production line of North American Aviation corporation's California plant, eclipsed the previous cross-country speed record made last month by Howard Hughes in the huge, four-engine Lockheed Constellation.

Hughes flew the transport from Burbank, California, to Washington, D. C., in six hours and 58 minutes. Peterson, 34, personal pilot for Gen. Henry H. Arnold, U. S. Army Air Forces commander, stopped at Kansas City, Kansas, to refuel. He averaged about 378 miles an hour for the 2,470-mile flight.

Carter, 30, flew non-stop and averaged about 370 miles an hour for 2,460 miles.

steamed through the Suez canal after stopping at Durban, South Africa, where they boarded a convoy that sailed through the Indian ocean and Red sea into the Suez canal.

On March 21, 1943, Unit 37 joined the British forces 90 miles west of Cairo. They later drove trucks, loaded with food supplies, to Baghdad for transfer to the Russians and then were sent to the Turkish border where they remained for four months. Huber's unit missed the British offensive in the desert, although other units of the American Field Service (ambulance drivers) were in the thick of the fuss.

Unit 37 was sent to Italy and Huber flew from Cairo to Bari, on the west coast of Italy in October, 1943, where he rejoined his outfit. He was given an honorary commission of lieutenant in the British Army for liaison purposes and was with the British in the advance to Lanoano and Termoli.

Contracts Sand Fly Fever

In these engagements the AFS volunteers drove ambulances carrying wounded "Tommys" from the front lines to regimental aid posts, medical dressing stations, casualty clearing stations and general base hospitals.

While on the Turkish border Huber contracted sand fly fever several times.

After his "hitch" in Italy Huber was sent to Naples where he met Sergeant Noel Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Baltimore street. At Avellino he met Joseph Eden, formerly of Gettysburg.

From Naples Huber sailed for Biberite, then to Oran and Casablanca. On April 29 he boarded an American Transport Service plane at 3 a. m. and arrived in New York at 8 o'clock that night.

For his service with the British he was awarded an African star. He has been honorably discharged from the American Field Service.

SOLDIER VOTES TO BE PLACED IN LOCKED BOX

Harrisburg, May 13 (AP) — The State Department recommended today that ballots cast by Pennsylvanians under the Commonwealth's G-I vote program be placed in locked boxes and kept in a safe until the date for counting them.

The action is in line with assurances given the recent special legislative session which set up the simplified vote system that proper steps would be taken to safeguard returned ballots.

The Assembly provided only that county commissioners constituting boards of elections should keep ballots safe. Senator Harry Shapiro (D. Phila.) claimed this was "an invitation to fraud." He proposed double locks on boxes for returned ballots but was voted down.

Open November 22

"We will recommend to county boards next week that after ballots are received and checked with lists of eligible voters that they be deposited in locked ballot boxes which should be kept in the safe of the board of county commissioners," said a State Department official.

Then the third Wednesday after the election, they will be taken out of the ballot box and checked to determine qualification of voters. The outside envelope will be removed and the inside one in which the ballot is sealed will be placed in a receptacle—a box or a mail bag—and after they are mixed up will be taken out and recorded.

Assistance of 903,000 volunteers in civilian war services of the State Defense Council in the forthcoming soldier vote canvass also was pledged by Mrs. Worthington Scranton, commander of the group.

CROSSES U. S. IN NEW TIME

New York, May 13 (AP)—A new transcontinental flight speed record—six hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds—set by Col. Clair Peterson in a sleek P-51 Mustang fighter plane carrying full battle equipment—was written into aviation annals today.

Peterson, a resident of Fargo, North Dakota, made the spectacular flight from Los Angeles to New York yesterday, arriving at LaGuardia Field eight minutes before another Mustang, which had taken off from Los Angeles a minute ahead of him, landed.

The second plane was piloted by Lt. Col. Jack H. Carter, of Pasadena, California, whose time was six hours, 39 minutes and 30 seconds.

Both ships, stock models fresh from the production line of North American Aviation corporation's California plant, eclipsed the previous cross-country speed record made last month by Howard Hughes in the huge, four-engine Lockheed Constellation.

Hughes flew the transport from Burbank, California, to Washington, D. C. in six hours and 58 minutes.

Peterson, 34, personal pilot for Gen. Henry H. Arnold, U. S. Army Air Forces commander, stopped at Kansas City, Kansas, to refuel. He averaged about 378 miles an hour for the 2,470-mile flight.

Carter, 30, flew non-stop and averaged about 370 miles an hour for 2,460 miles.

SEES SERVICE

steamed through the Suez canal after stopping at Durban, South Africa, where they boarded a convoy that sailed through the Indian ocean and Red sea into the Suez canal.

On March 21, 1943, Unit 37 joined the British forces 90 miles west of Cairo. They later drove trucks, loaded with food supplies, to Baghdad for transfer to the Russians and then were sent to the Turkish border where they remained for four months. Huber's unit missed the British offensive in the desert, although other units of the American Field Service (ambulance drivers) were in the thick of the fuss.

Unit 37 was sent to Italy and Huber flew from Cairo to Bari, on the west coast of Italy in October, 1943, where he rejoined his outfit. He was given an honorary commission of lieutenant in the British Army for liaison purposes and was with the British in the advance to Lanciano and Termoli.

Contracts Sane Fly Fever

In these engagements the AFS volunteers drove ambulances carrying wounded "Tommies" from the front lines to regimental aid posts, medical dressing stations, casualty clearing stations and general base hospitals.

While on the Turkish border Huber contracted sand fly fever several times.

After his "hitch" in Italy Huber was sent to Naples where he met Sergeant Noel Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Baltimore street. At Avellino he met Joseph Eden, formerly of Gettysburg.

From Naples Huber sailed for Biberte, then to Oran and Casablanca. On April 29 he boarded an American Transport Service plane at 3 a. m. and arrived in New York at 8 o'clock that night.

For his service with the British he was awarded an African star.

He has been honorably discharged from the American Field Service.

ALLIES EXTEND OFFENSIVE IN PACIFIC AREA

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, May 13 (AP)—Moving the air war nearer the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur listed the Palau area today for the first time in his communications.

Palau, which stands like a gateway to the Philippines a little over 500 miles west of it, is the big Japanese Naval base which underwent its first attack of the war March 29 and 30 by carrier planes of a huge task force.

Now it is within range of MacArthur's land-based bombers 800 miles southeast at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and today he reported that a patrolling Liberator caused bomb damage Wednesday to a 1,000-ton enemy ship 300 miles east of Palau.

(The almost casual reference to the setting up of regular air patrols in the Palau area undoubtedly means the finishing touches have been completed on Hollandia's four captured airdromes and that land-based air attacks on both Palau and the southern Philippines may be in the offing.)

Strike At Truk

Headquarters also amplified today accounts of a destructive strike at Truk and reported a raid 200 miles west of it at Puluwat. Truk, Puluwat and Palau lie along a 1,175 mile stretch of the Caroline Islands now being pounded by south and southwest Pacific bombers.

The communicate said Liberators which flew to Truk Wednesday caused "severe damage" to warehouses, hangar and repair shops with 96 tons of bombs, destroyed two grounded planes and shot down from six to eight others of 30 enemy interceptors.

Loss of a Liberator previously was acknowledged.

Other bombers set fires at Mokmer airdrome in the Schouten Islands and poured 150 tons of explosives on Wake island Thursday. More than 100 tons were expended in the Wewak area.

See New Importance To Italian Campaign

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The new offensive in Italy indicates that the American high command has swung definitely to the British view that the capture of Rome would be an achievement of great moment.

Disclosure that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, Fifth Army commander, recently visited this country for secret conferences with President Roosevelt apparently signified that the Italian campaign is regarded as of much importance.

But before the Allies reach Rome they have formidable hurdles to clear.

In early England, forgers were punished by having their ears cut off.

See New Importance To Italian Campaign

Washington, May 13 (AP)—The new offensive in Italy indicates that the American high command has swung definitely to the British view that the capture of Rome would be an achievement of great moment.

Disclosure that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, Fifth Army commander, recently visited this country for secret conferences with President Roosevelt apparently signified that the Italian campaign is regarded as of much importance.

But before the Allies reach Rome they have formidable hurdles to clear.

In early England, forgers were punished by having their ears cut off.

Congressmen Hail New Draft Rules

Washington, May 13 (AP)—New Selective Service regulations liberalizing deferments for men above 25 were hailed today by house military committee members as a step in the right direction provided they are not changed or amended.

"Selective Service has at last done what the military committee has been trying to get it to do for a year," said Chairman May (D-Ky) he referred, he said, to "the taking of registrants by age groups."

Rep. Thompson of Texas, ranking committee Democrat, saw in the regulations a clarification of the status of registrants who, he said, heretofore did not know where they stood in the draft. They should, Thomason said, "stop some of the confusion and contradictory statements between Selective Service and the war manpower commission."

Tell How To Send Shoes Overseas

In answer to many inquiries, the Harrisburg district OPA office today outlined the procedure to be followed in ordering shoes for members of the armed forces outside of the United States.

Any person in possession of a request for shoes from a member of the armed forces stationed outside United States does not have to surrender a ration stamp to the dealer. He or she merely places an order with a dealer to ship the shoes out of the country and has no further responsibility in the transaction. (Postal authorities require a letter of request before accepting a package for overseas mailing). The dealer who receives the order mails the shoes to the APO or fleet post office address and obtains proof of such mailing from the post office. He then applies to the district OPA office with a certificate of mailing attached for replacement of the stamp.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Pittsburgh, May 13 (AP)—Joseph Lazar, 41, died in a hospital last night of a fractured skull which the coroner's office said he suffered when he fell 80 feet from a smokestack at the Labelle plant of the Crucible Steel Co.

Fire engines are said to have been invented by Ctesibus in 250 B. C.

STRAND THEATRE
Saturday
"HIDDEN VALLEY OUTLAWS"

Bill Elliott George Hayes

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
William Powell, whose suave and sophisticated screen manners are models for millions, does a turnabout in "The Heavenly Body," the M-G-M comedy which opens next Monday at the Majestic theatre, in which he co-stars with Hedy Lamarr.

Scenes in the film call for him to turn a garden hose on Spring Byington, threaten to break a statue over Pay Bainter's head, lock James Craig in a clothes closet, and even do a Russian dance strongly under the influence of vodka.

Powell is cast as an astronomer who discovers a new planet and then learns the surprising news that his wife has taken up astrology. The merry time that follows is a result of their conflict. Alexander Hall directed and Arthur Hornblow, Jr. produced this hilarious gaffest.

WEDNESDAY
"The Woman of the Town," the Harry Sherman production coming into the Majestic theatre on Wednesday through United Artists release tells the true-life story of "Bat" Masterson, one-time sports editor of the New York Morning Telegraph. It is interesting to note that Louella Parsons, nationally syndicated columnist, served on the same newspaper as did Masterson in the second decade of the 1900's. She was an intimate of his and loved sports and pugilism as much as he did.

"The Woman of the Town" concerns Masterson's exciting career as a peace marshal in the old frontier town of Dodge City when it was noted from coast to coast as the toughest place in the West. In the film Albert Dekker plays Masterson, with Claire Trevor co-starred as the glamorous Dora Hand. Beryl Wallace plays the part of Louella Parsons.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Rita Hayworth who plays the lead in "Cover Girl."

To lovers of lilting music, and who isn't, the news that Jerome Kern and Ira Gershwin have teamed to write the score and lyrics for Columbia's Technicolor musical, "Cover Girl," starring Rita Hayworth and Gene Kelly which opens Thursday at the Majestic theatre, will come as a boon. For Kern and Gershwin occupy premier positions in the minds of the musical public and permanent places in the hearts of singing America.

Rounding out the supporting cast are such stars as Jinx Falkenburg, Lee Bowman, Phil Silvers, Otto Kruger and the Cover Girls, heralded as 15 of America's most beautiful women.

French Destroyer Scatters E-Boats

London, May 13 (AP)—A strong force of German E-boats concentrated in the English Channel about 25 miles southeast of the Isle of Wight was scattered by the French destroyer La Combattante early today after an engagement in which one E-boat was sunk and another damaged, the admiralty announced.

The remainder of the enemy force escaped at high speed under cover of smoke, the announcement said, adding that the destroyer, which suffered neither damage nor casualties, picked up a number of survivors.

British light Naval forces in offensive sweeps off the French coast early yesterday attacked a small German convoy and set fire to two enemy vessels and damaged two others, the admiralty announced today.

Fire engines are said to have been invented by Ctesibus in 250 B. C.

LADY IN A WHIRL

By Esther Valck Georgins

Chapter 14

"Oh, Be Thankful," O'Brien chuckled, "is some mess. He's just one big lump of poison ivy. I'm going to send the district nurse up to look at him. Say that sure was funny last night. Miss Pettit's a game old dame, all right."

"Miss Pettit is used to excitement," Zaida said.

Policeman O'Brien eyed Zaida appraisingly. "You look mighty sweet today," he observed, and reached for her hand.

Zaida withdrew it rather brusquely.

"Now don't be offish," O'Brien admonished. "I don't hold hands with every girl I see." He laughed and looked embarrassed. "My intentions are honorable. Honest!"

"That," said Zaida, smiling, "sounds almost like a proposal."

"That's exactly what it is," he staggered her by exclaiming. "Ever since that first time I saw you, I've been crazy about you."

Zaida eyed him suspiciously. Could he be serious? Of course he was outrageously handsome, but even so, could it be possible that he would aspire to one of New York's richest young women?

He misinterpreted her expression. "I'm not kidding, honey. I haven't thought of anything but you since I met you. I know when the old lady dies you'll come in for a pile of dough. Anybody can see she's rich, and that she's crazy about you. Of course, I don't approve of a poor man marrying a moneyed woman but well worry about that when it happens. She look good and healthy. She'll live for years yet."

There was no doubt but that he was sincere. Zaida was surprised and amused—and a bit touched.

"Well, really," she began.

"Oh, I know," he interrupted her. "Maybe you want a little time to think it over. I understand that. And I know you got it pretty soft here, but I don't do so bad. I can take care of you. Maybe I can't ride you around in big cars like Miss Pettit's, but I can feed you and clothe you. You won't have to wear plain clothes like you do here. Things like that, for instance." He indicated Zaida's hand knit dress that had cost nearly as much as he earned in a month.

He lifted her hand and regarded the star sapphire on her finger. "And I'll get you a real ring, kid. White gold and diamonds. None of this silver and glass business. Well, what do you say?"

Zaida laughed. O'Brien evidently thought she was some sort of a poor relation of Cora's. "It's a great temptation, O'Brien," she grinned.

And indeed it was. For years she had been in fear of being married for her money. And O'Brien was evidently crazy about her for herself alone.

Taking her thoughtfulness for encouragement, O'Brien encircled her with an eager arm.

Neither of them saw Cora's startled face appear in the doorway.

"It might be fun to be married to you, O'Brien," she heard Zaida say, and before Cora's startled eyes the officer kissed her.

Cora, who had returned to the house to get Pete some matches, turned and fled back the way she had come. She dashed wildly down the stony path that led to the brook. As she reached the edge of the stream she slipped on a wet rock and sat down in the water with a terrific splash.

"Well," said Pete, reeling in his line, "I might as well give up now. Every fish must be miles away after that."

He regarded Cora with a cold eye. She was still sitting where she had landed, vainly trying to dry her spectacles with a dripping handkerchief.

"Why on earth," he demanded, "don't you look where you're going? Get up out of that cold water." He reached over and yanked her onto dry land.

"Why are you making those funny noises? Are you hurt?"

"Oh dear, I don't know," moaned Cora. Then "No, No, I'm not hurt. It's Zaida. Now she's going to marry him!"

"I'm sick of Zaida and her love affairs," Pete said crossly. Then, "Him who?" he asked.

"Him! The cop! I saw them on the porch kissing each other."

"Ugh! Does she kiss just anybody?" Pete took out his handkerchief and dried Cora's glasses for her and put them on her nose. "A kiss," he told her, "doesn't always result in matrimony."

"But I heard her. She said, 'It might be fun to be married to you, O'Brien.' And then he kissed her. Or she kissed him. Anyway they kissed. Oh, Pete, what'll I do?"

"Do?" snapped Pete. "What can anybody do if a woman's bent on making a fool of herself? She's always talking about being married for her money. What on earth does she think O'Brien wants her for?"

Cora flew to Zaida's defense. "She's a beautiful girl, Pete. Any man would be glad to marry her even if she hadn't a cent."

"Huh! She's beautiful all right—but damn dumb, if you ask me."

"Pete!" Cora stopped trying to wring the water from her skirts. "Pete! You know what I think? I think Zaida's in a marrying mood."

"Biological urge, in other words," agreed Pete.

"What?"

"Nothing. Never mind."

"Pete, I think she feels like getting married. You know what I think?"

"Well, you just told me. You think she feels inclined towards matrimony."

"Yes, but I mean besides that. You know, Pete I bet she'd maybe marry you if you asked her while she feels this way."

Historians mention embroidery as early as 1491 B. C.

STRIKE CLOSES PACKARD PLANE ENGINE PLANT

Detroit, May 13 (AP)—One big war factory—Packard, makers of Rolls-Royce aircraft engines and PT-boat engines—stood idle today as the strike of 3,300 Detroit war plant foremen began to have more serious consequences.

The Packard Motor Car company plant was closed by the management last night virtually at the very hour the War Labor Board (WLB) declined to go on record with assurance to strikers that they would be protected from any management reprisals if they returned to work.

The Foreman's Association of America had demanded such assurance from WLB before resuming work, and Board Chairman William H. Davis limited himself to a promise that the board would inquire to determine the management attitude.

39,000 Are Idle

Davis said flatly the board would accept no conditions from the union to ending the strike. WLB earlier had ordered the strike to cease before it would attempt to negotiate the dispute.

George T. Christopher, Packard president and general manager, said the company was forced to cease production because the Army Air Forces had refused to accept Packard products in the absence of "inspection supervision to guarantee quality."

The company has not made public

its employe total, but the Packard local of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), in a statement declaring the importance of the foreman-management dispute "exaggerated," said 39,000 persons were made idle by the closing.

The UAW-CIO local took no stand in the dispute itself, although expressing concern over failure to continue producing for the armed forces.

NOT FANCY BUT GOOD

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Old fashioned fans are being resurrected for use in a new $2,000,000 court house here since the War Production Board ruled no refrigerator will be available for the building's modern air-conditioned units.

Flashes Of Life

PERSEVERANCE PAYS OFF

New York (AP)—For a month Max Bushman haunted a Bronx, subway station looking for a man who had robbed him there. He saw him four times but each time the pickpocket eluded him.

Then, Max spotted his man again. He chased him the length of a moving train, out of a station and for two street blocks. Lusty calls for help brought police and the suspect finally was collared.

THE HEAT'S OFF

New York (AP)—A 22-year-old sailor, charged with driving 90 miles an hour in a Manhattan thoroughfare, paid a $35 fine and offered this explanation:

"I was trying to cool off after a fight with my girl."
